Today was our first of trading pins! We were incredibly impressed to see so many Arizona HOSA members networking with other states! Today’s hardest pin to find for most people was the Hawaii pin, with their small membership making the Hawaii pin a hot commodity. I hope you guys had fun trading. Do not forget to send your pictures to azhosa on Instagram in order to complete Day 1 of the Daily ILC Challenge!

The HOSA EXPO is a great place for young members to look at postsecondary educational options to further their careers in the health profession. There are many options, such as the Army, trade/vocational schools, medical school and many more. It is always great to keep your options open! Explore the different colleges and programs available to you. You never know what you might find!!
I spent 60 seconds in this 90 degree heat... man that was a hot minute.
If you are an animal lover, this Koi pond is for you! Located in the Garden Conservatory, you can observe these beautiful fish swimming around.

Fun Fact: If you are in need of good luck, then find a Koi fish! In Japanese culture, Koi are a symbol of good fortune and abundance.
June is Pride Month

Pride month is to celebrate the LGBTQ+ icons in this world! But how will we enjoy it if we don't know much about it and how far we've come? Let's strut into it; shall we?

HISTORY

Pride month commemorates the 1969 Stonewall Uprising, a protest for LGBTQ+ rights, and the successful Gay Liberation Movement. From a one day celebration back then, the LGBTQ+ community is now celebrated for a whole month! Let's remember those whose lives were lost in the process and those who have made all of this possible!
Let's meet some healthcare professionals who have made a positive impact on the health field and the LGBTQ+ community!

Dr. Dean Connolly
They/Them
HIV & GUM Doctor

Dr. Alex Ashman
They/Them
ENT Surgeon

Dr. Joseph Hartland
They/He
EDI Deputy Ed Director

FUN FACT:
In 1999, Tucson passed an anti-discriminatory law protecting people in the LGBTQ+ community followed by Phoenix and Tempe. Shoutout to ya'll!

Things to do in Nashville

Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum

Duration: 2-4 hours. Cost: $27.95 per adult. Visitors get to experience the evolution of country music through diverse mix of displayed artifacts, video footage, and carefully selected sound recordings. Visitors of all ages can discover connections between country music’s past and artists of today, and have the chance to engage with interactive stations. The museum offers amazing tour experiences and opportunities to play an instrument, enjoy an archived film, or hear live music from country legends and renowned songwriters.

Grand Ole Opry Show

Duration: 120-150 minutes. Cost: $69. The Grand Ole Opry is a country music stage show in Nashville, founded in 1925 by George D. Hay as a barn dance on WSM, aka the Legend, a 50,000-watt AM radio station located in Nashville. Dedicated to honoring country music and its history, the Opry continues to feature a mix of legends and contemporary chart-toppers performing country, bluegrass, folk, gospel, and comedy. It is considered an American icon, attracting hundreds of thousands of visitors from around the world—with millions of radio and Internet listeners tuning in to the broadcast.

Ryman Auditorium

Duration: 1-2 hours. Cost: $30.77 per adult. The first stop on the tour is the “Soul of Nashville,” a state-of-the-art theater experience that uses special effects, holograms, and archival footage to introduce the Ryman Auditorium’s 125-year history. The exhibits cover everything from the early days of country music performance to contemporary stars: visit Workin’ on a Building, Showplace of the South, Mother Church of Country Music, Inspired: 125 Years of Performance, and Ryman Renaissance. This self-guided tour is available from 9 AM to 4 PM.
